Virginia Swain, Founder and Director of The Institute for Global Leadership, invites you to a Conference and a week-long series of events marking the Institute for Global Leadership's Fifth Anniversary

“The best of our humanity is needed now to address the spiritual and moral crisis in leadership. We welcome seasoned and emerging leaders to join us in inviting people to learn about our leadership models developed and implemented to elicit the goodness of our humanity at this crossroad moment in institutional, social, ecological and economic global history. The challenges are personal, societal and global. Being effective leaders in the evolving global climate requires different values, skills and experience. . You may not have thought of yourself as a traditional leader or you may have an unexplored mission in leadership. If you feel drawn to join us, we would be delighted!”
